British Made Products Manufactured in the World's First Proven Antimicrobial PVC

Angloplas is a UK plastics product manufacturer who specialise in producing dispensers for the health and hygiene industry. Although these are designed to keep the workplace tidy and uncluttered, they are, more importantly, built knowing the control of healthcare-associated infections (HCAIs) are a priority for healthcare providers, and who are employing a combination of infection prevention and control strategies, including hand hygiene, cleaning, training and the adoption of new technologies, to tackle the problem.

As a result, a wide range of infection control products and technologies are emerging on the market, including antimicrobial technology.

With this in mind, during the summer of 2011 Angloplas transferred production of its dispensers, originally produced in a standard PVC material to the world's first proven antimicrobial PVC with silver ion technology. This helps stop the growth of bacteria and mould and is guaranteed to work continuously for the lifetime of the product, reducing levels of bacteria such as MRSA, E Coli, Legionella, Salmonella and mould by up to 99.99%.

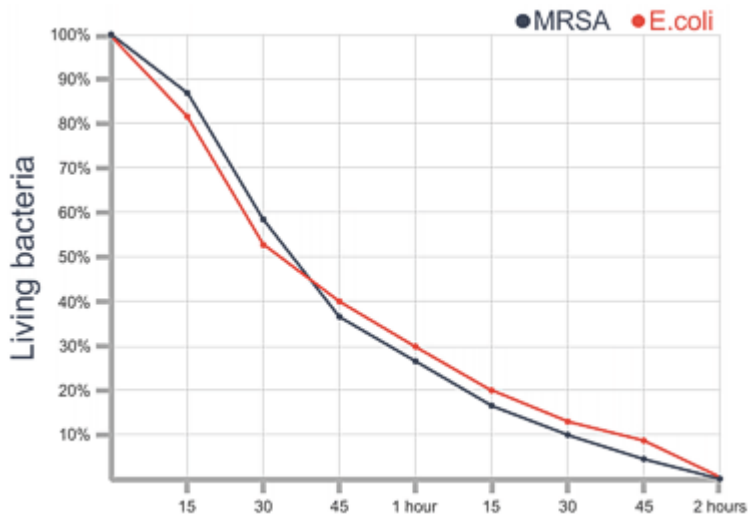
Silver ion technology is a safe, natural antimicrobial that is added at the point of material manufacture ensuring it is present throughout the virgin PVC material. The impregnated material is exclusive to Angloplas and the products we make from it are only available direct from ourselves or from our appointed distributors.

How does it Work?

Silver ions are added to the virgin material at the manufacturing stage, resulting in an active concentration of silver ions on the surface of the product. When bacteria come into contact with this surface, the silver binds to the bacteria and catalyses an enzyme breakdown in the bacteria, rendering them unable to reproduce and further causing them to die.

The additive in our material has been proven to reduce bacterial contamination in a number of real-life environments, including a hospital, care home and food packaging plant.

A pilot trial in an NHS Foundation Trust, showed how protected products demonstrated similar levels of antimicrobial effectiveness in a real-life environment as seen in laboratory tests, e.g. average bacterial reductions of 95%.



The antimicrobial additive used in our material is effective for the life of the product, against a vast range of microbes including:

- MRSA
- Clostridium difficile
- Pseudomonas aeruginosa
- E-coli - Salmonella
- Listeria monocytogene
- Legionella pneumophila
- Streptococcus faecalis
- Bacillus subtilis

Sterile Glove Pack Dispensers - Product Guide & Information for Mölnlycke Biogel®, Ansell Encore® and Ansell Gammex® Types (scroll down for dispensers)

After carrying out a process of product rationalisation regarding our unique Sterile Glove Dispensers (Registered Design No: 4034787) we have now adopted a modular approach to manufacturing which will;

- Reduce production times and therefore mean shorter lead times
- Make shipping and manual handling easier thus reducing the risk of damage while in transit and during installation
- Give greater flexibility over what you can fit into your available space
- Allow us to offer the full range of Ansell Gammex® type dispensers which prior to this was limited

We've also taken this opportunity to update their product codes to make it easier to identify the unit's format e.g. the new product code for our SGD3 is now followed by its format i.e. '(3x1)' meaning 3 compartments across and 1 high. In the case of the SGD2, SGD4, SGD6, and SGD12s, these all have two alternative formats as shown below in diagrams 1 and 2.

The basis of this new approach consists of manufacturing a core base of units that go to make up the rest of the existing product line-up. The base units are listed as follows SGD2(1x2), SGD2(2x1), SGD3(3x1), SGD4(2x2), and SGD4(4x1).

All the bigger formats will now be made up of these core base units and will be recognisable by there being a 'P' in the code to signify it is a 'package' of core units i.e. the 12 compartment products are now coded 'SGD12*P*(6x2)' (i.e. 6 across x 2 high) or, 'SGD12*P*(4x3)' (i.e. 4 across x 3 high).

Flat Top or Sloping Top?

Our sterile glove dispensers come with either a flat or sloping top and when ordering you will need to specify which type you require via the product's code.

Sloping Tops are usually specified to discourage the storage of items on top while the Flat Top type suit confined spaces or where you need to stack one dispenser on top of the other i.e. the lower one with a flat top and the upper one with a sloping top.

If you are ordering one of the new 'packaged' units (a combination of core base units) we will despatch the units with the top unit (or units) with your choice of top (sloping or flat). Also included with the packages are clear diagrammatic instructions to show your installers/fitters how to arrange the package of units to achieve your desired format.

Antimicrobial Worktops and Shelves - Made To Your Specification

High quality plywood is used internally for strength and to avoid sagging as opposed to the usual chipboard or MDF which has poor load bearing qualities.

Neither are you limited to straight edges as we can also produce curves should your design necessitate this.
